News from the Center for Food and Agricultural Business:

Monsanto Corn States Brings Group to Campus

On August 4-6, the Corn States Premier Solutions Business Excellence Fellowship held its second residency at the Krannert Center on Purdue's campus. The program, developed specifically for the company, brings Corn States' customers (independent seed companies) to campus to work on a strategic business plan and build relationships with their strategic account manager. Faculty members Dave Downey, Allan Gray and Mike Gunderson, along with affiliated faculty member Pete Hammett, led sessions discussing financial management, leadership and change management, marketing and sales, and strategy. This is the third offering of the program.

Agribusiness Finance for Non-Financial Managers takes place at Beck Agricultural Center

24 agribusiness managers visited the Beck Agricultural Center from August 11-14 to take part in the Agribusiness Finance for Non-Financial Managers program. Developed to give managers without a financial background more information on agribusiness finance, this is the sixth year that the program has been offered by the center. Faculty members Michael Boehlje and Mike Gunderson, as well as Jaclyn Kropp from the University of Florida, led sessions throughout the four day course. Topics included financial statements, cash conversion cycle, accounts receivable, and inventory turnover, earn, turns, and ROA, and leverage and debt use. Participants were also divided into teams which presented on "Convincing the CFO" to Jaclyn Kropp and Mike Gunderson. Kevin Schoenborn, manager at Wilbur-Ellis, was pleased with the program, saying, "This is a good program that delivers very important concepts and teaches useful tools."

John Deere Financial Decision Making Returns to Campus for Sixth Year

The center worked with John Deere to develop Financial Decision Making, a seminar for field managers. 2015 was the sixth year for the program. On August 18-20, 22 field managers traveled to the Kurz Technology Center on Purdue's campus for the program. Faculty members Michael Boehlje and Mike Gunderson, along with visiting professor Brent Gloy, led sessions discussing financial statements, thinking like a CFO and managing risk, along with other topics. This material allows participants to translate the quantitative aspects of financial analysis into a story that becomes a useful planning tool and helps them deepen their relationships with their dealers.

MS-MBA program graduates 10th class

The largest MS-MBA Graduation Dinner in the history of the program was held August 8 in Ross Ade Pavilion. One hundred seventeen people celebrated the completion of the MS degree for the 26 person cohort. The program, held at Ross Ade Pavilion, culminated in the awarding of the Founder's Cup for the cohort's best capstone project. This year's award was given to Denver Bane of Bane Welker Equipment. Denver's faculty advisor was Dr. Mike Gunderson.

MS-MBA Cohorts Attend First Residency

MS-MBA Classes 11 and 12 kicked off the year with a week-long residency in Bloomington from August 16-21. Throughout the week of class, the two cohorts discussed different material. The 11th class of the program covered management of human resources in a global environment, while the 12th cohort discussed leading change. The students were also treated to a presentation by the 2014 Founder's Cup winner and a panel discussion made up of four MS-MBA grads. The next residency will take place in West Lafayette from November 1-6.

Business Strategist Rita McGrath Visiting Campus September 22

Award-winning business strategist, author, and public speaker Rita McGrath will present two sessions on Purdue's West Lafayette campus, September 22. McGrath is a professor at the Columbia Business School and is known as a global expert in strategy and innovation. She will host a faculty session 4:30-5:45 p.m. (location TBD), then will present to students 6:30-7:30 in MTHW 210. The topic of both sessions is The End of Competitive Advantage. McGrath's sessions are sponsored by the Center for Food and Agricultural Business and the Krannert School of Management. Please keep an eye out for email updates.

Presented papers, seminars, travel:

Badri Narayanan and Dominique van der Mensbrugge participated in a workshop on 'EU agricultural domestic support in economic modeling' organized by the Institute for Prospective Technological Studies (IPTS) in Seville, Spain on June 3, 2015.

Badri Narayanan participated in the 23rd International Input-Output Conference held in Mexico City, 22-26 June 2015.

Dominique van der Mensbrugge was hosted by the Department of Economics at the Universidad de Cartagena from June 30-July 1, 2015. One of the purposes of the visit was to explore opportunities to strengthen relations between our two respective departments in the context of Purdue's Partnership agreement with Colombia and was a follow-up to meetings held at Purdue in April. Our host kindly organized an hour long meeting with the Rector of the University (Dr. Parra), where among other issues, we discussed the possibility of holding the Annual Global Economic Analysis Conference in Cartagena in 2018. During his visit he also gave a seminar on the GTAP project to a large gathering of graduate students from the Department of Economics

Holly Wang delivered seminar talks at University Alaska at Anchorage on July 14 and University of Missouri at St. Louis on September 23, "Food Attribute Preferences in China's Restaurants: The Perspective of US Duck Industry Penetrating the Chinese Market."

Presentations at the International Research Committee, Natural Hazards Center on Disasters annual research conference, Broomfield, CO, July 23, 2015.
