Mission Statement Examples

ADM

To Unlock the Potential of Nature to Improve the Quality of Life.

The implementation of our mission statement is evident in virtually every area of Archer Daniels Midland Company. Our agricultural products, from grain and food ingredients to animal feeds and supplements, are processed to actualize their greatest nutritional and economic potential.

In addition, products such as health-promoting nutraceuticals and corn-based ethanol fuel, are just the beginning of natural-based innovations from ADM that show great promise to improve the quality of life.

OUR MISSION
To unlock the potential of nature to improve the quality of life.

OUR COMMITMENT
To make the world a better place by applying advancements in research and technology to agriculture.

WHAT WE BELIEVE
Our most valuable assets are our people and our customers.
Responsible corporate governance delivers value for our shareholders.
Agriculture is the key to sustainable global growth.
In an innovative, entrepreneurial environment that empowers great ideas.
In the creativity to see, the freedom to develop and the capacity to act.
In integrity and responsiveness in all our interactions.
In profound respect for our environment.

Agway Energy Products

Our Mission
At Agway Energy Products, we're always striving to do better - for our customers, our company, and our employees. To make sure this approach is a central part of future planning, we've put our mission in writing.
"We will be the leading regional total energy solutions provider to homes, farms, and businesses. Our focus on superior customer service, sustained growth, and our ability to take advantage of strategic opportunities will enable us to maximize profitability."

Critical to achieving that mission are five basic values:

1. Uncompromising Integrity - Our tradition of ethical and honest business conduct is the foundation of our organization.
2. People - The value employees bring to creating customer solutions provides the backbone of our team's success.
3. Innovation - We constantly strive to find new and better ways to meet our customers' needs and exceed their expectations.
4. Learning/Continuous Improvement - Our employees thrive in an atmosphere which supports continuous learning development and personal growth.
5. Operational Excellence - We will provide the best value to our customers through continuously improving our processes and cost structure.

Becks Superior Hybrids
http://www.beckshybrids.com/

We are farmers, just like you. The big difference is why we farm. While you may farm to provide products for consumption or industrial use, we farm to provide you with the best researched and documented field and product information available. We then use that information to provide you with what we believe to be the best seed products available anywhere. With research fields in Indiana, Western Ohio, Eastern Illinois, Southern Michigan and North-Western Kentucky, we not only have the ability to identify what products work best in those areas, but also, what techniques and what considerations need to be used in those areas. We have dedicated ourselves to helping our customers maximize their fields potential by providing them with the best seed products along with the most practical and reliable information available anywhere. It's as simple as that.

We are scientists. Specializing in all aspects of agronomics. While we may not be the "overseer" of the public lands as the early Greek definition of agronomist indicates, we do ensure we have the knowledge and experience available to help you maintain your lands at their peak levels of performance. At Beck's, we maintain a working relationship with several leading research firms in order to obtain superior parent seed lines and access to genetically improved lines. Our own research department uses this as well as their own research and development results to provide our customers with products matched to their needs and conditions.

We are family. With over 60 years experience, we know that in order to offer the best, you have to be the best. To our family and employees "team" is not just an abstract concept designed by some upscale human relations department. It's a fact of life. From the President to our delivery people, we all take great pride in working together to provide you with only the best products and service available. While others may believe they need to offer services and information in order to stay competitive, we at Beck's believe it's our RESPONSIBILITY to provide our customers with the most accurate and up-to-date services and information available. Here at Beck's, our team knows that sometimes good just isn't good enough. No company ever got to be great by just being good. They became great only after going that extra mile.

Eastview Farm

http://www.agwayagproducts.com/cooperator/9705/dairysuccess.htm

Mission Statement
This mission statement is devised as a foundation guideline to lay out the general reasons that the partners own and operate this business. It serves to answer the basic question of "Why does this business exist?" Therefore, this should be referred to periodically for a guideline in business planning and decision making. It is also important for employees and staff members to be aware of and understand these basic goals and how they are involved. It will also be important for professional people working with the farm to realize these goals so they can better serve the business.

1. PROFIT The primary responsibility of any business, along with the management and individual employees, is to make a profit. Profit is absolutely essential for the very existence of any business on a long-term basis. Profits need to be obtained in order to keep all expenses and debt payments current, provide a good standard of living for partners and employees, and provide a competitive return on partnership equity. Business profit needs to be a primary concern of each and every member of the Eastview team in order to ensure that the business survives and prospers for many years to come. A profitable business not only benefits the owners, but also the employees, agri-business, suppliers, and the community in general.

2. PEOPLE The people involved are the greatest asset of any business. The business needs to be managed to serve the needs of the owners and employees. Major emphasis must be placed upon:
   A) Safety and optimum working conditions.
   B) Provide good standard of living that is comparable with other business and industry.
   C) Be considerate of family, social, religious, and other off-farm interests.
   D) Keep farm organized and operated on the basis of a team structure and keep everyone as involved as possible. All team members will treat each other with proper respect and recognition.
E) Focus on individual partner and employee goals for challenge and growth, and provide opportunity for "Each individual to become all they are capable of being."

3. LEADER Eastview Farms will strive to be a leader in the local, state, and national dairy industry. This can be monitored by keeping most financial, efficiency, size, performance and other measures and comparisons within the top 10% of the New York State dairy industry. By accomplishing this, we will always be competitive within the industry, regardless of the current economy. Leadership will also be enhanced by striving for a good business image, reputation, and relations with neighbors and the local community. At Eastview, we will strive to provide clean, dry, and comfortable environment for our animals. Cattle will be cared for in a humane, stress-free manner. Each animal will be cared for as if she were our only animal. Eastview Farms will also assume a leadership role in operating our business in harmony with our community and the environment around us. We feel that a progressive farm can be operated with concern and consideration for the environment and neighbors.

4. HAVE FUN We feel that it is very important for the partners and staff members to have fun doing what we do. The basic goal is to have every person involved with this farm to get up in the morning looking forward to going to work. Efforts will be made to provide interesting challenges and opportunities for people to grow and learn and work toward their goals. We will maintain a related atmosphere with major emphasis on the team concept. Communication between everyone will be encouraged and enhanced. Undue stresses will be avoided as much as possible. It is important to run a progressive and top-notch business that every team member can be proud of.

The characteristics above are very important concepts for a thriving business. While there will always be room for improvement, the Eastview Team will strive to operate this farm business within the guidelines laid out above. Eastview Farms is proud to be a progressive member of American Agriculture and is looking forward to a tremendous future in the most efficient and powerful agricultural nation in the world.

John Deere

John Deere's mission is to "Double and Double Again the John Deere Experience of Genuine Value for Employees, Customers, and Shareholders."
