Photo of the month: Summer Study Abroad - Italy

Dr. Scott Downey led a summer study abroad program to the Tuscany region of Italy in May. Thirteen students from Ag Econ and several other majors visited small producers of wine, cheeses, olive oil, hard meats, and other traditional products in their study of how the companies produce and market their products domestically and for export. The group is pictured here with Luigi Sidoli, who was known around the world as a specialist in infectious diseases in hogs. Mr. Sidoli had visited Purdue in the early 1980's and was very proud of the relationship. The group stayed for several days on Mr. Sidoli's family farm, Agriturismo Cavazone.
