RE: Kentuckiana Crop Production Seminar

YOU’RE INVITED!
Fall is in the air and that means the Kentuckiana Crop Production Seminar is right around the corner. This year’s program is once again outstanding and offers two days of education, networking, and continuing education credits to maintain your professional certifications. I hope you will make plans to attend!

WHEN AND WHERE:
The Kentuckiana Crop Production Seminar is scheduled for November 28-29, 2017 at the French Lick Resort Hotel located at 8670 West State Road 56 in French Lick, Indiana.

AGENDA:
The Seminar begins the morning of Tuesday, November 28 and runs until late afternoon on Wednesday, November 29. All program times are Eastern Standard Time Zone. Refreshment breaks will be provided during the workshops and lunch will be provided for those registered for at least two workshops. An attendee networking reception will be held Tuesday evening.

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES:
Exhibit tables are available for purchase and will be set up in the main hall for attendee networking during both days of workshops. An attendee reception will be held on Tuesday evening after the workshop. Sponsorships are available to help cover the cost. Sponsors will be recognized throughout the Seminar and on signage at the event. See registration form for details.

REGISTRATION:
The Kentuckiana Seminar is divided into four workshops. Attendees have the option of attending only the workshop(s) they need to satisfy their CEU requirements and/or time constraints. When registering, attendees should indicate which workshops they will be attending and pay the accompanying registration fee. Discounts apply for those attending multiple workshops. Attendees need not attend consecutive workshops to receive the discount.

Pre-registration is not required but is requested in order to have enough meals prepared for the group. Please send the registration form and payment to the ABAK office at 340 Democrat Drive, Frankfort, KY 40601. You may fax in your form to the office at 502-875-1595 or register online at www.kyagbusiness.org. If you choose to register on-site, please have your check, money order, or credit card ready at registration table check-in.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS:
There are opportunities to earn CEUs for Certified Crop Advisers as well as Indiana and Kentucky applicator credits. Continuing Education Credits for this conference have been requested but have not yet been approved. The final number of credits approved may vary from the information listed below.
