AWARDS & RECOGNITIONS

Congratulations to Ph.D. candidate Mary Busayo Oluyemi! Mary was honored as the 2024 Woman of Promise by the YWCA Greater Lafayette during their Salute to Women. Mary was recognized for her dedication to "ensuring young women have access to crucial resources and providing support to those who may feel alone." We are proud of you, Mary!

Each year, the Kirleiss Graduate Student Award honors Purdue Food Science graduate students from Africa, Asia, Middle East, or Latin America with an exceptional GPA who have presented their research at a national scientific meeting. Congratulations to this year's recipients, Elma Kontor-Manu and Edward Moncada!

Purdue Food Science takes on IFT! Faculty, staff, and students had the opportunity to network with other food scientists, learn about industry innovations, and present their research at IFT First in Chicago. Congratulations to Edward Moncada, who was awarded first place in the Carbohydrate Division of the Graduate Student Oral Competition!

Nicholas Gallina has been selected as the recipient of the Meat Foundation Merit Scholarship for $5,000. Congratulations to Nick on this outstanding achievement.

Amandeep Singh received a travel award from the Society of Food Engineering to attend Conference for Food Engineering in July 2024.

Congratulations to Ph.D. candidate Manoj Sawale! Manoj's poster won first place in the Developing Scientist Competition at the International Association of Food Protection (IAFP) annual meeting. Amandeep Singh accepted the award on Manoj's behalf. Way to go!
