

LoveWay has immediate internship openings for students pursuing degrees in equine studies, rehabilitative therapy, social work, or related fields. The Adaptive Riding program at LoveWay provides opportunities to engage with children who have one or more diagnosed physical, cognitive, or emotional disabilities.

Interns will work as part of a highly collaborative team alongside PATH and CHA IRD certified instructors and equine management staff in a non-clinical setting. Students will gain experience, apply already learned skills and witness firsthand the therapeutic benefits of equine assisted services. Specifically, interns will:

- Assist with classes, lesson planning and activities.
- Assist with equine care and handling.

Internship hours are from 8am-4pm daily, with opportunities available year-round. Please note that summer internships are available, but class time with children is limited to June -August. While this is not a paid internship, LoveWay is pleased to offer free housing on-site in a brand new, fully furnished, park model home. Interns will be required to fill out an application form and undergo a background check prior to joining the program.

We are confident that we can provide a useful, valuable experience for students in an environment where they will be appreciated for their skills and contributions.
