

GET ON THE PATH TO A CAREER IN CONSERVATION

USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS)

PATHWAYS PROGRAM

A paid internship to help agriculture producers be sustainable.

Recruitment Incentives Available for Eligible Students.

Get Ready!

The USDA-NRCS will soon be announcing internship opportunities with the agency for high school and college students who are at least 16 years of age. These are paid internships that can lead to meaningful careers as natural resources & rangeland management specialists, soil conservationists & scientists, ag/civil engineers, and more.

What to do now:

- Establish an account on USAJobs.gov
- Update your resume and upload it to your USAJobs.gov profile
- Upload a current electronic copy of your transcript
- Set up a Job Search using the key words "NRCS+Pathways." Select to receive daily updates to receive job announcements as soon as possible. Announcements will only be open for a limited time.

SCAN FOR NRCS CAREERS
NRCS offers opportunities for indoor and outdoor work, based on your career goals. Explore the career options available.

SCAN TO GO TO USAJOBS.GOV
Get your profile and search set up in USAJOBS.gov so you will be ready to apply in a short turn around time.