

Vet Technician Job

About Us:

At Fieldgate Farm, we specialize in the care, joy, and well-being of Australian Labradoodles. Our farm is home to a boutique doodle daycare and boarding center, along with a loving puppy nursery. We are seeking a dedicated and compassionate Veterinary Technician to join our team and help provide exceptional care for our dogs in every stage of life.

Position Overview:

The Veterinary Technician will play a key role in the health and happiness of our dogs by assisting with medical care, administering medications, and overseeing the daily well-being of our daycare and boarding dogs. This role also involves providing specialized support in our puppy nursery, ensuring the youngest members of our doodle family receive the nurturing and medical oversight they need.

Key Responsibilities:

- Administer medications and maintain accurate health records for dogs in daycare, boarding, and the nursery.
- Monitor the health, behavior, and overall well-being of all dogs in our care.
- Assist in whelping support and the care of newborn puppies, including feeding, monitoring growth, and ensuring a clean, safe environment.
- Provide hands-on support during wellness checks, treatments, and routine health protocols.
- Communicate with staff and management regarding health concerns, care plans, and any medical needs.
- Oversee safety and cleanliness standards in kennels, play areas, and nursery spaces.
- Collaborate with the daycare/boarding team to ensure dogs receive a balance of play, exercise, rest, and care.
- Maintain a calm, positive, and compassionate environment for both dogs and staff.

Qualifications:

- Certified Veterinary Technician (CVT, RVT, or LVT) preferred, or equivalent veterinary experience.
- Previous experience in a veterinary clinic or animal hospital.
- Knowledge of canine health, medications, and safe handling practices.
- Comfort working with puppies, including whelping and early-stage care.
- Strong organizational skills with attention to detail.
- Passion for dogs and commitment to providing exceptional care.
