Presenters:

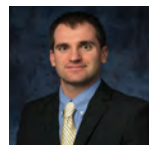

Ryan Hadley, Director of Policy and Government Relations Indiana Electric Cooperatives

Ryan serves as the Director of Policy and Government Relations at Indiana Electric Cooperatives (IEC), where he plays a key role in advancing the interests of Indiana's rural electric cooperatives. In this capacity, Ryan works collaboratively to develop policy initiatives and serves as an advocate for cooperatives with policymakers and elected officials. Before joining IEC, Ryan had a distinguished career in state government and was appointed by Governor Eric Holcomb to lead the Indiana Office of Energy Development as Executive Director and Indiana's Chief Energy Officer in January 2022.

Melissa Wright, Principal Stakeholder Engagement Manager, Duke Energy

Melissa is the Principal Stakeholder Engagement Manager for Duke Energy Indiana's portfolio of regulated and renewable utility-scale energy projects. Melissa works with both internal and external stakeholders in the formation and delivery of community engagement plans in support of the development, execution, and transition of Duke Energy Indiana's generation fleet.

Andrew Magner, Senior Development Manager, EDP Renewables

Andrew was born and raised in Indiana and attended Indiana University, where he studied GIS. In the past 10 years with EDP, Andrew has worked to implement over 1 gigawatt and 200 megawatts of wind and solar energy production, respectively.
