

The Annual Midwest Mint Growers Conference will be held on February 27-28, 2025, at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana. This conference will host Midwestern mint growers from Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan. The annual gathering of growers, mint oil buyers, regulators, industry professionals, scientists, and extension professionals creates an ideal platform for networking and exchanging the latest developments in research and technology, as well as providing time to reconnect with customers and colleagues in the Midwest Mint Industry. The program is a joint effort of Purdue University, the Indiana Mint Market Development & Research Council, and the Wisconsin Mint Growers Association.
