There are 573 federally recognized Native American tribes in the United States. These tribes possess the right to form their own governments, to enforce laws (both civil and criminal) within their lands, to tax, to establish requirements for membership, to license and regulate activities, to zone, and to exclude persons from tribal territories. Tune in to find out more about Native American culture from Felica Ahasteen-Bryant, Director of the Native American Educational and Cultural Center at Purdue University.
