ACRE VENTURE PARTNERS INTERNSHIP (SUMMER 2022)

About Acre:
Acre Venture Partners is an early-stage venture fund focused on investing in companies which create fundamental change in food and agriculture, in order to address large scale problems in human and environmental health. We invest across the food value chain in agriculture, food tech, and consumer verticals.

Role Description:
We view this role in the same way we would a full-time hire. We want this individual to be an integral part of the day-to-day operations of the fund, helping us with ideation, industry segmentation, sourcing, diligence, portfolio management, and any other ad hoc research or projects that come up in the normal course of investing.

Program Details:
10-12 week summer program, based in Santa Monica, CA (assuming it’s safe to do so). Potential for additional part time engagement prior to summer.

Qualifications:
- Prior experience in unstructured roles which required critical reasoning and sound business judgement
- Mission aligned around better outcomes for human and environmental health
- Passionate about food and ag industry
- Intellectual curiosity, especially as it relates to innovation and investing
- Willingness to be part of a collaborative team-based approach
- Strong interpersonal skills and ability to constructively engage with various stakeholders, including entrepreneurs, investors, and professional service providers
- High integrity and ethical standards
