Title: Communications Intern

Qualifications:
The Alliance is seeking an individual with a strong interest in animal agriculture and excellent communication skills to serve as a communications intern. Internships generally last 10 weeks and are offered in the spring, summer, and fall. Additional requirements include a strong command of Microsoft Office, the ability to multitask and a willingness to work as a team player. Preferred skills include command of utilizing various social media platforms and understanding of public policy. The ideal candidate would be a junior or senior-level student pursuing a degree in an agricultural related field or communications/public relations.

Description:
Areas of work will include, but may not be limited to, writing, research, special project assignments and coordination, database management, conference participation, developing reports and utilizing social media. The Alliance’s office is located in Arlington, Virginia near the Courthouse Metro station.

The Alliance is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that works to bridge the communications gap between farm and fork. The Alliance's mission is to connect key industry stakeholders to arm them with responses to emerging issues, to engage food chain influencers and promote consumer choice by helping them better understand modern animal agriculture and protect animal agriculture by exposing those who threaten our nation’s food supply with damaging misinformation.

Compensation:
Internship salary: $1,500/month, plus parking or metro reimbursement. Course credit is also possible.
