Hillandale Farms, one of the country’s leading egg production facilities, is looking for a Production Supervisor to join their Turner Maine team.

The Production Supervisor will be responsible for supervising teams of employees who maintain bird health and safety to support egg production. Duties include hiring and training hourly employees; setting and communicating weekly work schedules for a 24/7 operation; collaborating with schedulers, processing managers, and facility maintenance staff to ensure optimal production.

Qualified candidates will have:
- High school diploma required; Bachelor's degree in poultry related field or animal science preferred
- 5-8 years experience in live animal operations
- 2+ years hiring/managing staff in a production environment
- Experience with LEAN or other process improvement techniques
- Strong mechanical aptitude to work with and troubleshoot mechanical equipment
- Knowledge of safety and quality program standards to ensure compliance

Interested candidates should send a resume to:
Johnna Major, President, Cornerstone HR at jobs@cornerstone-hr.com.

About Hillandale Farms:
Hillandale is located in Turner, Maine, which is about 15 miles north of Auburn and 50 miles north of Maine’s largest city, Portland. The company has 7 sites with over 60 coops and 3 million birds. You will be part of an experienced management team that is focused on the continued success and improvement of the operations.

Hillandale offers a competitive salary, an excellent benefits program including a 401k with a 100% company match on the first 4% that you contribute and which is 100% vested immediately.

Hillandale offers:
- Health Insurance with a low employee cost share
- Dental Insurance
- Vision Insurance
- Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA) for health care and dependent care expenses
- Life and AD&D Insurance up to 1x your annual salary as well as voluntary options
- Employee Assistance Program (EAP)
- Paid Time Off and Holidays

Relocation assistance is available.