Grain Management Internship at Kokomo Grain Co., Inc

Position Location: Edinburgh, IN

Job Description:

- Conduct daily maintenance of the buildings and equipment at the facility.
- Manages the flow of grain dumped into the elevator and loaded out into the trucks (and rail cars at some sites)
- Monitors grain in storage and maintains condition with aeration or turning to keep grain in good condition.
- At times oversees the weighing and grading of grain before it is dumped into the grain elevator.

The Grain Management Intern will have exposure to:

- Facility Operations & Logistics
- Grain Grading & Quality
- Rail Loading
- Grain Origination
- Preventative Maintenance
- Grain Drying Procedures
- Assist with Structural Inspection
- Facility Safety Inspection
- Basic Electrical Troubleshooting

Qualifications:

Pursuing a bachelor’s degree in agriculture

Adequate transportation to and from work

Successful completion of a pre-employment physical screening, drug screen and background check is required

Comfortable working at heights, such as walking on catwalks in high positions. Able to lift up to 50 pounds. Comfortable climbing fixed and stationary ladders. Has the ability to work in confined spaces and in a broad range of climate conditions. Comfortable utilizing mobile and stationary equipment and systems.
About Kokomo Grain Co., Inc

Kokomo Grain and Feed Company was founded in 1950 and consisted of a country elevator with 12,000 bushels of storage capacity. One of the first unit train loading facilities in the country was built at the present site in Kokomo in 1974.

The company has enjoyed steady growth over the years through acquisitions and expansion and now has a federally licensed capacity of over 55 million bushels.

The company has facilities in Kokomo, Amboy, Edinburgh, Anderson, Emporia, Romney, Burlington, and Winamac, IN.

Kokomo, Amboy, Anderson, Emporia, and Edinburgh all have rail loaders and are located on short line railroads that enable the company to hit markets to the southeast as well as the export market. The company sells whole grains (corn, soybeans, and wheat) to processors for eventual use primarily in food, soft drinks, and animal feed. The company is now known as Kokomo Grain Co., Inc.

Please send resumes to: jchapin@kokomograin.com