Below are events open to the public and co-presented by Purdue Agriculture and Purdue Health & Human Sciences.

Under the theme “And the Band Plays On” these events aim to rise above noise intended to distract us from important issues. Our localized charity efforts will benefit the Hanna Community Center, which offers programs to support youth, seniors and minority health.

All events are from noon to 1:30 p.m. EST unless otherwise noted.

25 MON

JOHN LEWIS: GOOD TROUBLE
Film Screening, 96 minutes
Join a virtual screening of director Dawn Porter’s acclaimed 2020 documentary about the late John Lewis, a Civil Rights Movement leader and congressman from Georgia. Lewis organized 1963’s March on Washington, led the “Bloody Sunday” march from Selma to Montgomery, and inspired generations of American activists.

Noon-1:40 p.m. EST

26 TUES

BLACK TRANS & QUEER LEADERSHIP IN CIVIL RIGHTS
Panel Discussion, 90 minutes
Communities facing the most severe marginalization can most clearly see the cracks that demand attention. However, history has rarely given them due credit for Civil Rights victories. A virtual panel of Black trans and queer advocates will connect historical achievements to contemporary aims and offer suggestions for people to engage in racial justice movements.

27 WED

DUE PROCESS: RACIAL JUSTICE IN AMERICA’S LEGAL SYSTEM
Presentation, 90 minutes
Events of the past year have increased our awareness of intersections between racial justice and America’s legal system. This virtual presentation will explore structural concerns within these systems and consider everyday ways to contribute to decriminalization and less punitive forms of accountability in our communities.

28 THUR

BIPOC FARMERS IN SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE
Forum, 90 minutes
In America and around the world, farmers who are Black, Indigenous and people of color face unique challenges in equitable access to grow food while practicing environmental stewardship. Representatives from Purdue Agriculture faculty, Purdue Extension’s Urban Agriculture program, and Purdue’s Center for Global Food Security will outline these challenges and potential solutions.

29 FRI

CARRYING THE MOVEMENT FORWARD
Panel Discussion, 90 minutes
The past, present and future of social movements and Civil Rights advocacy unite in this virtual discussion featuring Purdue University students. This panel will discuss the experiences that galvanized them toward action in advocacy, the issues with which they’re engaging right now, and how platforms for advocacy and outreach are evolving.

Links for these virtual events will be sent soon.
