

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Conservation Practice Adoption Motivations Survey (CPAMS)

The Conservation Practice Adoption Motivations Survey (CPAMS) is a joint project between the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) and the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) aimed at understanding why people choose to use or not use different conservation practices. By responding, you will help shape the future of conservation programs!

Shape the future!

agcounts.usda.gov

Respond online, by mail, or fax. Call 888-424-7828 for help with your CPAMS.

nass.usda.gov/go/CPAMS